Teaching and development

Act as a role model for pupils and staff through high-quality teaching and learning, regularly demonstrating expertise.

Maintain high standards of teaching and learning at all times and for all children.

Be flexible, creative and adept at implementing teaching methods within lessons that are effective and consistently well-matched to learning intentions and the needs of all pupils.

Integrate recent developments, including those relating to subject and curriculum knowledge, into lessons.

Use PPA time effectively for the enhancement of teaching and learning.

Be consistent in demonstrating teaching skills that lead to pupils achieving well in relation to their prior attainment, making progress that is as good as, or better than, similar learners nationally.

Have knowledge and understanding of how to use and adapt a range of teaching, learning and behaviour management strategies.

Demonstrate an understanding of how to personalise learning, in order to provide opportunities for pupils and maximise their learning potential.

Have a good knowledge of the assessment arrangements and requirements for curriculum areas, including those relating to standard assessments.

Have an up-to-date knowledge and understanding of the range of assessments and specifications, and their suitability for meeting the needs of pupils.

Have a well-developed knowledge of curriculum and subject areas, including how learning progresses within them.

Have sufficient depth of knowledge and training to be vigilant with Safeguarding and welfare concerns and the need for robust practise.

When setting homework, ensure that it is engaging and consolidates and extends the knowledge of pupils, in line with the school's homework policy.

Adapt teaching methods to meet the needs of individual pupils. Consistently demonstrate an assessment for learning (AfL) approach by using formative and summative assessment as an integral part of the teaching, learning and planning cycle.

Demonstrate an ability to effectively engage with pupils who have English as an additional language (EAL).

Demonstrate an ability to effectively engage with and appropriately cater for pupils who are identified as having SEND and those who are in receipt of PPG funding.

Have a desire to lead on improving outcomes for children across the school through modelling and supporting the development of inclusive strategies as a whole school approach.

Evaluate lesson plans daily following lessons/assessments using an AfL approach.

Actively encourage pupils to discuss their learning experiences, gather feedback on lessons and plan teaching methods and lesson structure accordingly.

Use learning support assistants effectively, to meet the needs of pupils and to support curriculum delivery.
